Bank Gives $1,750 To Boy Scouts

FIRST Stroudsburg National Bank honored the Boy Scouts of the Delaware Valley Area Council yesterday by announcing its gift of $1,750 toward the Camp Weygadt Expansion Fund.

The area Boy Scout movement is currently conducting a campaign for $200,000 to enable more boys to benefit from the year-round training opportunities at Weygadt.

Frank L. Stackhouse, bank president, presented the subscription to general chairman, William S. Wyckoff.

"The gift will provide two memorial projects," said Stackhouse. "It is the desire of the bank directors that the Boy Scout Council reserve the memorials, including the new troop area entrance and the topographical map survey of the Weygadt property. We are cognizant of the importance of a well planned camping facility and the part a contour map plays in locating important buildings throughout the camp. We feel it is most fitting to help the Scouts early in the campaign to enable the Scout officials to plan carefully the overall needs of the construction program," Stackhouse continued.

Wyckoff, in accepting the gift on behalf of the Boy Scouts, said: "You know that you can put money in a savings account and in a few short months your account will have grown. There are some things in which you invest and you don't see results for several years—sometimes longer. One of the things we have in mind is Boy Scouting. A youngster becomes a Boy Scout when he's 11 years old, but it will be a period of years before his training fully reflects itself in a well-rounded personality," Wyckoff said.

"In this case, the length of time for the results to show doesn't count," said Wyckoff. "It's the initial and continued investment that means everything—the kind of investment you can make by contributing to the Scout Camp Expansion Fund Drive. I'm sure the investment in the youth of Monroe County will result in greater dividends to business, the community, nation, and parents, the payoff will come in terms of finer men," he concluded.

Brownell Approves Government Stock Sale

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell announced today he has approved sale of the government's stock interest in Rohm & Haas Co., pharmaceutical and chemical manufacturer of Philadelphia, for $34,405,649.

Brownell said he had directed the office of alien property to accept that sum for the government's 79,213 shares of common stock and 4,810 shares of preferred stock, seized from German interests during World War II.

Area Students Win Scholarships

HARRISBURG, June 19 (AP)—Abraham L. Sheitelman of Philadelphia today was awarded first place honors in competitive examinations for the annual award of college scholarships.

The Public Instruction Department listed Sheitelman, a student at Girard College, as one of the 80 scholarship winners throughout the state.

The scholarships are worth $200 a year for four years at any approved Pennsylvania college or university.

One scholarship is awarded to each county and also another one to each senatorial district in counties containing more than one district.

The winners include:
Jerome Arthur Feldman, RD 1, Ford City; Sarah Marie Kemberling, Everett; Patricia Ellen Hamman, Llyswen-Altoona; Marcia Hope Hammond, Athens; Doris Jeanne McClure, Emporium; Willard John Oswald, Palmerton; Mary Eliza Yeager, Bellefonte; William McCanna, Petersburg; Clarion County; Sue Jane Golder, Benton, Columbia County; Robin Ashley Biggs, Meadville; Theresa Ann Torchia, Johnstown;

Dennis Gerard King, Westerville; Erie County; Gerald Bruce Lane, Fayette City, Fayette County; Judith Sharon Wharton, Tionesta; Wanda Mae Crouse, McConnellsburg; Charles David Custer, Waynesburg; John Lincoln Reed, Alexandria, Huntingdon County; Pamela Naomi Chamberlain, Indiana; Robert L. Pence, Brookville; Walter Robert Rysz, Old Forge;

Lawrence Alfred Stratton, Jr., Snelton; Richard Carl Howard, Sharon; John Stewart Swartley, Stroudsburg; Francis Joseph Swift, Danville;

Carol Diane Ewbank, Matamoras, Pike County; Julia Ann Grimes, Galeton, Potter County; Lee Myles Dippert, McClure, Snyder County; Frederick Bleserker Shaffer, Jr., Somerset; Douglas Toothaker, Du-shore, Sullivan County; John Edward Urban, Forest City; Barbara Anne Russell, Mansfield; Joanna Ruth Ziegler, Lewisburg.

Committee Votes Limit For Debt

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—Taking note of Eisenhower administration plans to cut the national debt, the House Ways and Means Committee today voted for a temporary debt limit of 275 billion dollars for the coming fiscal year.

The figure is three billion dollars more than the statutory limit of 272 billion, but also three billion less than the current temporary ceiling of 281 billion.

Legislation to extend the temporary ceiling for one year beyond June 30—but at the new, lower level—was requested by the administration. The bill was unanimously approved by the committee and will be acted on later by the House and Senate.

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told the committee he thought that with "careful management" the government can keep within the new, lower ceiling in the fiscal year that begins July 1.

But Humphrey stressed that any effort to use an expected budget surplus of $1,800,000,000 to finance tax cuts might require the administration to seek a higher debt level, "perhaps immediately."

Cypriots Hurl Bomb
NICOSIA, Cyprus, June 19 (AP)—Cypriot rebels hurled a bomb today at a British army jeep accompanying a vehicle bearing the bodies of three British paratroopers killed in a forest fire last Sunday.

Highway Department Makes Aid Allocation To County

Hospital Stay Increased For President

WASHINGTON, June 19 (AP)—President Eisenhower's personal physician disclosed today the President will be hospitalized somewhat longer than first forecast. Eisenhower won't get out before the middle of next week.

The original forecast had indicated he would be discharged about next Sunday by Maj. Gen. Howard M. Snyder said today, when asked when he thought the President would be released:

"Any time from the middle of next week on. Probably longer and certainly not shorter."

James C. Hagerity, White House press secretary, told newsmen the prospects for a longer stay do not reflect any change for the worse in the President's condition.

Bulletin
A medical bulletin at noon pictured Eisenhower as continuing to progress "very satisfactorily." It said his temperature, pulse, blood pressure and respiration continued normal.

This summary was repeated in the 5 p.m. bulletin, which reported Eisenhower spent a restful afternoon and slept for several hours.

After the nap, Eisenhower was visited for an hour by his 8-year-old grandson, David Eisenhower.

The President sat up during the day to eat his meals.

Snyder was questioned by newsmen after he attended graduation exercises for interns at the Army's Walter Reed Hospital, where Eisenhower is recuperating after his major abdominal operation.

He did not cite any reason for keeping Eisenhower in the hospital longer than originally indicated.

Once the President is released, he said, he thought Eisenhower's farm home at Gettysburg, Pa., would be a better place for him to recuperate than the White House.

Snyder did not say definitely whether the President would go to Gettysburg.

Meanwhile, physicians attending Eisenhower served notice that he has "no intention of engaging in controversy" with certain other doctors over whether he may be stricken again with intestinal inflammation.

They put out that word after their attention had been called to statements attributed to other medical men saying, in effect, that the type of ailment Eisenhower suffered does recur quite frequently.

Three Guards Draw Suspensions

PITTSBURGH, June 19 (AP)—State police and the district attorney today opened dual investigations at Western State Penitentiary after three guards were suspended and charged with smuggling banned items to prisoners.

Both State Police Capt. James F. Maroney and Allegheny County Dist. Atty. Edward C. Boyle promised "full and complete" investigation of reports that a large scale smuggling ring was operating within the gray-walled prison.

Stroudsburg Police Chief James McConnell said no one was injured. However, some $800 damage was caused to the vehicles involved, and the service station owner estimated his damage at some $4,000.

McConnell said a car owned by the Pennsylvania Power & Light Co., and driven by Charles A. Eldridge, 32, of 15 Collins St., Stroudsburg, was traveling south on Ninth St., when it came to a stop in the center lane, preparatory to making a left turn into Phillips St.

Strikes Side

Suddenly, a 1952 convertible, operated by Harvey Lyon of East Stroudsburg R.D. 3, struck the right side of the PP&L car, as it was traveling in the same direction, the police chief reported.

The Lyon vehicle then bounded into the side of the service station before knocking out several concrete blocks at the entrance to a second floor apartment in the building, McConnell said.

The convertible then bounced backward and crashed into another vehicle, driven by Darwin W. Evans, 18, East Stroudsburg R. D. 3, the police chief disclosed.

Burgess Signs Articles For Parking Authority

CHIEF BURGESS Hal H. Harris has affixed his signature to the articles of incorporation for a Stroudsburg Parking Authority.

The articles will now be forwarded to the secretary of the Commonwealth, who will then issue the official charter. The five-member body can be formally organized following receipt of that document.

Harris signed the articles although he has opposed creation of the authority. The borough council adopted an ordinance establishing the group over his veto.

Named by the council to serve on the authority are Dr. Samuel Sullivan, Robert Miller, M. Stiles Baldwin, George Stoekel and Robert Davenport.

Dr. Sullivan said last night that, although formal organization will have to await the arrival of the charter, authority members will probably visit possible parking lot sites before then.

Both the Stroudsburg Merchants Association and the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce have commended the borough council for approving the creation of the parking group. They also urged that steps be taken as quickly as possible to set up off-street parking facilities in the borough.

It's been estimated that some 500-to-800 cars could be accommodated in parking area close to the business section. Dr. Sullivan has commented that "ideal" locations for such facilities would be between Fifth and Seventh Sts.

Long, Martin Near Blows At Hearing

BATON ROUGE, La., June 19 (AP)—Gov. Earl K. Long and Secretary of State Wade O. Martin Jr., almost came to blows as they shouted in hot anger at each other today in a legislative committee.

Martin, speaking in opposition to a long-backed bill which would oust him from his post as state insurance commissioner, heatedly demanded that the governor stop interrupting him.

A full-scale uproar broke out, with spectators and Committee Chairman Robert Angelle rushing in between them.

Question
Long had attempted to ask a question and Martin objected, after listening to Long interrupt a previous witness continuously.

"You're just proving you're not fit to be state insurance commissioner," Long shouted.

Martin roared back, "And you're just displaying you shouldn't be governor."

Martin was loudly applauded. Angelle grabbed a cane and rapped for order. When quiet was restored, the chairman said "I never have been so embarrassed in my life."

Martin told the committee that the hearing is not on insurance rates. He pointed out the Louisiana insurance rating commission is comprised of seven appointed by the governor and the secretary of state.

Long jumped up to ask a question, grabbing the microphone. Martin snatched it back, shouting, "Let's have order, Mr. Chairman." The crowd applauded.

Later the two state officials started a struggle for the microphone, almost coming to blows.

As the tension mounted, Rep. A. T. Anders Jr. of Baton Rouge moved the meeting be adjourned.

U. S. To Pay Debt

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 18 (AP)—The United States promised under pressure today to pay its 10-year-old real estate debt to the 304 Pacific islanders from Bikini and Eniwetok atolls, which it uses for atomic and hydrogen bomb tests.

French Authorities Execute Two Algerian Rebel Prisoners

ALGIER, Algeria, June 19 (AP)—French authorities, holding 60 or 70 Algerian rebels under death sentences, finally executed two today. The two were beheaded on a guillotine in the courtyard of the Algiers civil prison.

The flashing blade seemed to spell a shift in the attitude of French officialdom, which previously had spared the lives of all such condemned captives throughout the 19-month-old Algerian uprising. More executions may follow.

They are expected to bring some violent reaction from the nationalist guerrillas still roving the countryside, but the French apparently feel confident they can handle it.

Reaction
A lively reaction may develop also in France itself, where left-wing parties are traditionally against capital punishment. Many of the French leftists are inclined to consider the rebel acts, including killings and arson, as political rather than common crimes.

The guillotine's blade dropped on Zahana ben Mohammed, convicted by a military court of killing a forest guard near Oran late in 1954; and on Ferradi Abdelkader ben Moussa, a turncoat French army scout convicted of taking part in a rebel raid on a farm near Palestro March 7.

The others under death sentence were convicted variously on charges of murder, rebellion or acts against the state.

Frenchmen living in Algeria, which the French regard as part of France itself, have long pressed the government to carry out the sentences as a warning to other rebels. But French officials in the past have expressed fear this might further alienate the Arab majority, whose friendship they are attempting to regain.

Bomb Scare Empties Building

PITTSBURGH, June 19 (AP)—All personnel was ordered to leave the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph building shortly before 5 p.m. today. A company official said they had been notified an incendiary bomb was in the eight-story structure located in the heart of the downtown business district.

No bomb was found.

Three Cars Collide, One Hits Building

A CAR operated by a 19-year-old motorist crashed into two other vehicles and Teele's service station at the intersection of Ninth and Phillips Sts., at 3:55 yesterday afternoon.

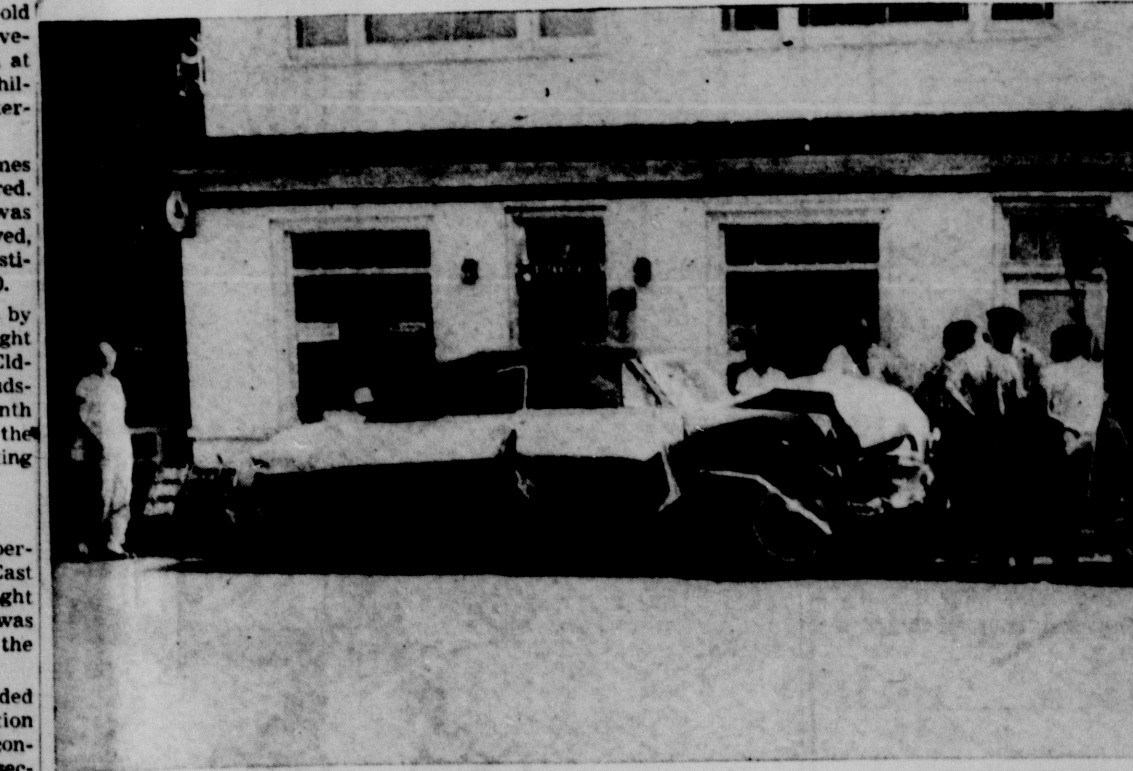

Stroudsburg Police Chief James McConnell said no one was injured. However, some $800 damage was caused to the vehicles involved, and the service station owner estimated his damage at some $4,000.

McConnell said a car owned by the Pennsylvania Power & Light Co., and driven by Charles A. Eldridge, 32, of 15 Collins St., Stroudsburg, was traveling south on Ninth St., when it came to a stop in the center lane, preparatory to making a left turn into Phillips St.

The convertible then bounced backward and crashed into another vehicle, driven by Darwin W. Evans, 18, East Stroudsburg R. D. 3, the police chief disclosed.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE was caused when this 1952 convertible, operated by 19-year-old Harvey Lyon of East Stroudsburg, RD 3, crashed into two other cars and the side of Teele's service station at the intersection of Ninth and Phillips Sts. yesterday afternoon. No one was injured.

Stroud Township Patrolman H. W. Tebb, who witnessed the mishap, helped to handle traffic following the accident.

McConnell said the case still is under investigation.

Four Boroughs To Collect $27,897

HARRISBURG, JUNE 19 (AP)—The state Highway Department today allocated $2,474,260 in state aid to Pennsylvania's 940 boroughs.

Pocono Playhouse Launches Summer Season With Smash Hit In 'Solid Gold Cadillac'

MOUNTAINHOME — Billie Burke, it should be readily apparent to everyone, is one of the most radiant, beautiful, thoroughly charming women to walk across a stage. "The Solid Gold Cadillac," a satirical view of U. S. corporations by George Kaufman and Howard Teichmann, is very nearly a solid gold play, given a minor touch of brass here and there.

Put the two of them together and you have the essential elements of a smash hit. And this is precisely the combination the Pocono Playhouse at Mountainhome is offering as its first attraction this year.

In writing their play Kaufman and Teichmann have stuck closely to a tried and true format. As they are at pains to note in the "narration" which accompanies their play, this is a "Cinderella" story. In this case our heroine is a lovely, deceptively pilliated "retired" actress named Mrs. Laura Partridge (Miss Burke) who takes on a giant corporation single-handed and wins two falls out of three.

Since nearly everyone — even men with large corporations — likes to see the spectacle of giant getting his comeuppance from the lowliest Jack, with or without beanstalk, "Solid Gold Cadillac" is guaranteed to provide some satisfied laughter in all quarters.

Different

The authors have written a different play, from a production standpoint. It has 14-count 'em — scenes. It requires four full-scale sets. More than anything else it needs fast-paced, knowing and inspired direction.

With John O'Shaughnessy in charge of the last-named department, the present Pocono Playhouse production is wonderfully staged. It has laughs by the carload and a brisk, imaginative design which, for all its occasional broad, farcical strokes, never once loses sight of the warm, human personality of Mrs. Laura Partridge.

Ballou is back again, too, working his own particular magic with scenic design. He has done a functional double-duty set showing the offices of General Products bigwigs for one scene and Mrs. Partridge's own office for another which is a beauty. And his idea of a government man's cluttered office has incisive humor all its own. Cameron MacCordell is in charge of lighting and this, too, cannot be faulted. There are dozens of props, collected by Roger Celler and his assistants, and they fit into the production perfectly.

Miss Burke is the star of the show. And as such she keeps the performance rippling along in a style which is irrevocably stamped with her name. But she has the expert assistance of a group of actors who provide some of the finest examples of unified ensemble playing you'll see.

Leading Man

Top man among these is Milo Boulton whose hardshell, bombastic portrait of the corporation man who's been "drafted" into government big business is a model of high humor. Among the others: Izzie Wolfington turns in an acid-etched picture of a sneaky, backbiting treasurer which is frequently closer to true satire than even the authors had intended. Jon Richards is fine as the most human of the quartet now in control of General Products; Reynolds Evans and Maurice Burke are equally fine in rounding out the foursome.

As is very often the case, the strength of this comedy rises high in the caliber of its "minor" performances. I doubt that many people will be able to forget a devastating caricature of a Washington secretary done by Elaine Swann, a caricature which is so thoroughly deadpan and physically memorable that it's hard to imagine a government office without a "Miss Logan".

Susan Willis is good as Mrs. Partridge's secretary; Jim Gilderleeve is convincing as her boy friend, Dixie Lee, Wilson Lesser, Herbert Voss, Frank Langella Jr., Dorothy D'Wolf and Frederic Walters are all fine in fragmentary roles. As an example of the loving care which has gone into this production, listen closely to the underlying vocal satire "Walter Swayze" puts into his interpretation of a radio newscaster. You've heard the type hundreds of times before.

Agreeable Aspect

One of the most agreeable aspects of the production is the narration. Not that it's especially brilliant in the writing. It isn't. But the lines are delivered — by recording — from the lips of Fred Allen, who did them for the Broadway production. Allen was one of the greatest satirists this country ever produced. He had a voice and a genius unlike any we have known. It was great to have him back, even for a lonely moment or so in a theater filled with laughter.

Billie Burke is a genius in her own right, it seems to me. No other woman in memory has so succeeded in transferring the brilliant charm of her personality to audiences from a stage. Much of her Laura Partridge is the enormous imprint of the familiar Burke laughter, the smile that makes her whole body dance with joy and the eyes that could light the darkness of a storm at sea.

Behind that smile lies the April freshness of an active, calmly-prevailing intelligence capable of taking any situation in hand. Given the right director and a fine cast, Billie Burke is a beautiful, unchanging element in a speed-racked world.

She has these in the current Playhouse production. And, as usual, Miss Burke is unforgettable.

DEADLINES

Advertising copy deadlines, just as new copy deadlines, are necessary . . . in fact, are imperative to the publication of a newspaper.

Enforcement of deadlines makes it possible to give readers a better newspaper, delivered on schedule. A better newspaper, promptly delivered to all sections of the trading area, means a better advertising medium.

It follows that adequate time for the proper handling of advertising copy, without interference with the mechanics of news production . . . and without jeopardizing the "on time" delivery of the newspaper . . . permits the better handling of advertising copy to work to the advantage of the advertiser in a better advertising medium.

In the interest of better serving ALL advertisers, all copy for display advertising, including CLASSIFIED DISPLAY, must meet the following deadlines:

Monday Copy	5 P.M. Friday
Tuesday Copy	12 Noon Saturday
Wednesday Copy	5 P.M. Monday
Thursday Copy	5 P.M. Tuesday
Friday Copy	5 P.M. Wednesday
Saturday Copy	5 P.M. Thursday

Western Poconos Association Plays Role In Light Change

EFFORT—The Western Poconos Resort Association, now functioning in its second year, played an important role in bringing about the change in traffic regulations in Wind Gap to seed flow of heavy traffic into the Pocono Mountains.

Cooperating with Pocono Mountains Auto Club and the Highways Department, the Western Poconos group assigned Witold Tilwick, treasurer, to work with representatives of Wind Gap, the Auto Club and Highway Department.

Their efforts produced the announcement carried in June 19 issue of The Daily Record that traffic will be speeded up by change in sequence of traffic lights at Route 115 and Route 12.

Those present were Sharon Canfield, Sandra Fetherman, Kathryn Ann Walters, Beverly Hartman, Mrs. Donald Hartman, Mrs. William Fetherman and Miss Margaret MacLaren.

Development Of Metered Parking Lots Important To Borough Business Area

The newly appointed Stroudsburg Parking Authority received an important shot in the arm even before it was formally organized when the Pocono Mountains Chamber of Commerce pledged its support to the agency in creating off-street parking facilities of a type deemed best to serve the community.

The chamber also offered its backing to every effort to bring the authority into prompt operation.

Stroudsburg Merchants Association joined the chamber in commending Borough Council for establishing the authority and urged immediate steps to ease the community's parking problem.

With Stroudsburg's parking situation growing progressively worse each year, it is generally felt that unless something is done to bring about early relief, shoppers will avoid the Stroudsburg business district rather than endure the inconvenience of hunting a place to park their cars—often with futile results.

Once stagnation sets in and shoppers begin hunting other sources to buy their goods, the business district will stop growing and, instead, go backward. If such occurs, the community will suffer in several ways.

The shoppers themselves will find many vacant storerooms instead of well-stocked stores in which to purchase the merchandise they want. The establishments that continue to operate will offer a lesser variety of goods because of the declining trade.

Realty values will decline to a point where the borough, county and school district will feel the pinch of a loss in taxes. Parking meter revenues, which contribute materially to paying the routine expenses of operating a municipality, will likewise fall away as business declines.

All this may sound too fantastic to be true, but such has been the history of communities that have failed to provide properly for expansion and an increase in traffic.

The Stroudsburg merchants were told that a minimum of 500 cars, and as many as 800, could be accommodated in metered parking lots close to the business section.

It will be the Parking Authority's responsibility to procure and develop these lots. It should lose no time in doing so once it has been formally organized and starts to function. The cooperation of the public is an important factor that must not be overlooked as the authority begins its task. The future of the Stroudsburg business district is at stake.

Infringement Upon Popular Pastime Is Ominous News For Coffee Lovers

"Coffee breaks" are being sharply curtailed in the State Capitol in Harrisburg, according to a news report. That's ominous tidings for us coffee lovers—the idea may spread to the Stroudsburgs and vicinity.

According to the report, a certain Simon Legree posted the following notice in the state cafeteria and fountain area:

"Due to increased competition and a keen desire to remain in business, we find it necessary to institute a new policy, effective immediately.

"We are asking that somewhere between the starting and quitting time, and without infringing too much on the time usually devoted to rest periods, story telling, dirty joke telling, ticket selling, vacation planning and rehashing of yesterday's TV programs, each employee endeavor to find some time that can be set aside and known as the 'work break'."

These snide remarks, we suspect, were written by an evil-tempered ulcer victim who has been denied the joys of coffee-drinking.

In any event, he is woefully ignorant of the fact that a coffee break is restful and perks up hard-working employees so that they can return to their jobs and accomplish more than they could otherwise. (This is the case with some employees, at least.)

There is another important factor to consider. Because of all the recent interest in heart trouble, it has been recognized that a short rest during the day is beneficial to the health of employees. But, of course, even we coffee lovers will admit that a little work is not harmful to the health, either.

George Sokolsky Says...

Group Of Democrats May Seek To Line Up Party's Governors Behind Adlai Stevenson

Some Democrats have it in mind to pull a stunt in 1956, on behalf of Adlai Stevenson, that Tom Dewey used with skill and advantage on behalf of Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952. Dewey attended the Governor's Conference and while there he got together a group of Republican Governors and had them pass a resolution favorable to the candidacy of Eisenhower. At that time most Republican Senators and members of the National Committee favored Robert A. Taft. The shift of the center of power in the Republican Party from United States Senators to Governors was novel and costly to Taft.

If the Stevenson supporters succeed in reproducing the Dewey trick at the Governor's Conference in Atlantic City at the end of this month, it will aid Stevenson's campaign for the presidency. With Kefauver practically eliminated, Stevenson faces the formidable candidacy of Averell Harriman who, as Governor of the State of New York, will be attending the Governor's Conference. A resolution favorable to Stevenson would be embarrassing to Harriman and he will undoubtedly do all he can to keep from being insulted by his colleagues. It is true that several Democratic Governors are pledged to Stevenson, but such men as Governor Meyner of New Jersey and Governor Ribicoff of Connecticut will have to do business with Harriman for quite a period and they are bound to maintain workable personal relations. A direct insult to a colleague does not make for workable personal relations.

The Democrats, in a way, have been counting their chickens too early. President Eisenhower has not been eliminated by his belly-ache; in fact, his swift recovery and the fact that his heart could take a major operation has done much to restore confidence in his ability to go on. At any rate, as things stand now, there is only one Republican candidate for President and for Vice President, and there is no division in the Republican Party. The 1952 Taft Republicans and the 1954 McCarthy Republicans are not putting up any real opposition to either Eisenhower or Nixon in 1956.

The Democrats, on the other hand, face a real split on the Negro question. Stevenson and his supporters believe that they can bridge that chasm, and David Dubinsky, who is head of the Socialist Liberal Party and not a Democrat at all, has gratuitously suggested to Harriman that he withdraw in favor of Stevenson. The Southern Democrats must wonder what Dubinsky has to do with the Stevenson candidacy. At any rate, Dubinsky's intervention created a sufficient stir in New York State to make Harriman's candidacy increasingly active.

It is to be recalled that a year ago, Charles Buckley, the Democratic leader of the Bronx and an effective leader of the Democrats, read Dubinsky's Liberal Party out of any relationship with the Democrats. This was done in the presence of Averell Harriman and Carmine DeSapio, Democratic leader of the New York Democratic organization would prefer to get rid of the socialist tie-up, but Mayor Robert Wagner and Senator Herbert Lehman find it advantageous to keep the connection. Dubinsky has provided roughly about 400,000 votes over the years.

Harriman's candidacy is real and his campaign is being conducted on the basis that the Democratic Party can win against Eisenhower and can win despite Southern defections. Whether this is realistic thinking can only be known after the ballots are counted. To Republicans, it sounds silly. If Harriman runs and is defeated, he will still be Governor of New York State; if Stevenson runs and is defeated, he will obviously be a two-time loser and that will undoubtedly be the end. He can then devote himself to the practice of the law, which can be very profitable for the diligent and the flexible.

As the campaign advances, the major interest is in Democratic politics where there is contest and conflict and therefore excitement. Republican politics, being a closed book with all accounts settled, is naturally very dull. This dullness needs to be overcome because the voter reacts to an unfavorably assuming that there is nothing he has to do to help the elected, not even to vote. It is very dangerous for a party to find complacent electorate; it might make it easy for the opposition.

there political propaganda in reference to hospital beds and would it be cleaner politics if Hagerty had been sleeping in a Denver-type bed?

"He walked fifteen feet and back and sat in a chair with his feet on an ottoman," said one bulletin. (I hope you don't want official linesmen to measure distances, Paul. Or maybe you want ottomans kept out of this campaign.)

"The physicians agreed the President should be able to resume his full duties in from four to six weeks," a bulletin said. Dr. Heaton added the opinion the operation would make him a better risk than before. Is that political? Could it be you would take a cue from the financial pages and have a clause under each sick-room bulletin which would read, "While the above statements are believed to be authentic, they are not guaranteed?"

Yours in the smog, Elmer.

Window Price Tags Should Come Back

I'm not old enough to remember dinosaurs, but I do recall when dress shops weren't too proud to put price tags in the windows alongside the merchandise.

There was an advantage in those days, both to shopper and shoppee. Once inside the store, the customer was already half sold. She knew the answer to question number one—"How much?" There was no need for the polite interchange, almost Oriental in pattern, leading up by circuitous route to the awful but basic query—"How much?"

One hardly puts the question so bluntly. One is expected to be above such incivility. Certainly a woman of delicacy would recoil from inquiring of the salesperson whether she married for love or money, whether her in-laws were kind to her, and how much income tax she paid. Such impertinence would be speedily dealt with. Haughty silence, most likely.

It's nearly that bad, bringing up the price of a dress. Would it do something for you? (Mmm, it might do a lot for you at $29.50, whereas at $129.50 it might do something unspeakable to the exchequer.) Is the fabric washable, crush-resistant? (Who cares, if the price is right?)

Sure, it's darling, but where in heck is that little gray card dangling from the sleeve which can be surreptitiously scrutinized while you pretend to examine the cuff seams? Just how darling can you get, without knowing the length and strength of the limb you are climbing out on?

It is a disquieting situation to find oneself admiring a concoction in just the right size, just the right color, just the right everything—only to be nailed to the dilemma writ in three figures. The more extroverted ladies will shriek good and loud, scurry out of the garment and out of the salon. But some of us weaker critters resist having to maintain pride while disavowing prejudice priced too high for us.

We are obliged to remember suddenly that we left something in the oven, that we already have a dress exactly like this one or that we feel faint. Any alibi, however transparent, looks good enough if only we can get out of what we just got into.

It's asking too much of merchants to put those horrid placards back in the window. That I know. But if they could turn the little weeny sleeve tags just a trifle some of us might invest in binoculars to see 'em the better. Then we are all in business.

12 Billion Dollar Bond Refunding Set For August

Washington, June 19—Treasury Secretary Humphrey has reached two definite decisions regarding the next big government bond refunding.

It will be in August, and will total $12,000,000,000. But Humphrey and his experts are still up in the air about the nature of the huge debt refunding they are in the middle of a sharp backstage tug-of-war between two powerful forces.

One group, spearheaded by the savings banks, is vigorously urging a long-term issue, of 20 or more years with a 3 percent or higher interest rate. Strongly favoring short-term bonds is the insurance industry and Dr. Arthur Burns, head of the President's Council of Economic Advisers.

The White House economist contends that an attractive long-term bond issue would draw a lot of investment capital out of the money market at a time when these funds are urgently needed to keep business booming.

Treasury Undersecretary Randolph Burgess disclosed these inside facts at a private meeting with the House Government Operations Committee.

The Treasury official is directly in charge of management of the stupendous $275,000,000,000 national debt. He was summoned by this Committee for questioning about the contemplated huge refunding operation, and the activities of certain bankers who have acted as Treasury consultants.

The Committee is investigating serious "conflict of interest" charges that have been made against some of these bankers.

"Savings banks people tell me they are trying to get you to issue long-term securities," said representative William Dawson, (D., Ill.), chairman. "They say they would buy such bonds, but so far you have not been willing to do that."

"We have issued long-term bonds in the past," replied Secretary Burgess non-committally.

I am also told that the insurance companies are against a long-term issue," continued Dawson. "Also that Dr. Burns agrees with them on this. What's the reason for their attitude?"

"It is due primarily to the tremendous demands for mortgage money and the credit needs of business," explained Burgess.

"The $175,000,000,000 national debt is a major influence in our national life," asked Dawson.

"It is, indeed," declared Burgess. "If handled improperly it can be inflationary or deflationary. For example: The failure of one of our large refunding operations could have grave consequences on the entire money market and the financing of business throughout the country. That's why it is of the utmost moment for the Treasury to take every precaution possible in a refunding transaction. We have to eliminate all the risks we humanly can."

Senator Edward Thyne (R., Minn.), declared this admission was "deeply disturbing."

"I fail to understand how and why our Intelligence could have been that bad," said Thyne. "From what you tell us, we didn't know until eight months ago that Russia was making these ominous gains in bombers and missiles."

Senator A. Willis Robertson (D., Va.), Appropriations Subcommittee chairman, brought to light the Spanish base situation in questioning General Callahan.

"Yes, these bases are definitely behind schedule," the Air Force programming director admitted. "Late last year our funds, to all intents and purposes, ran out."

"Why?" demanded Robertson. "In the field of construction," explained Callahan, "we have to exercise priority. We have to decide where construction funds should be spent. In this instance, whether they should go for building ballistic missiles or for these Spanish bases."

Note: The Government Securities Committee of the American Bankers Association, in a memorandum on 1956 debt refunding, states: "It is the opinion of this Committee that, restraint or no restraint, money market decisions most definitely will be made outside of political considerations by the Federal Reserve Board."

Pentagon Bombshells—Two sensational disclosures are adding a lot of heat to that vehement Senate clamor for a billion-dollar-plus increase for more bombers and speeded-up guided missiles development.

The two bombshells are: The claim that "inadequate Intelligence" is a key reason the U. S. has fallen behind Russia in the production of strategic bombers.

Construction of U. S. air and naval bases in Spain is behind schedule because the Air Force literally "ran out of money" for them last year.

Startled Senate leaders learned these backstage facts at a session with two Air Force officials. They are Assistant Secretary Lyle Garlock, and Major General Daniel Callahan, head of Air Force Programming. Confering with Senators on the story bomber and guided missiles issue, the two Pentagon authorities were subjected to sharp questioning by both Republicans and Democrats.

Senator Allen Ellender (D., La.), chairman of the Agriculture Committee, demanded, "Why are we so far behind the Russians in strategic bombers?"

"I would say inadequate Intelligence," replied Secretary Garlock. "Their development of bombers was much faster than we anticipated, with the result that they got quite a bit ahead of us before we knew anything about it."

Senator Edward Thyne (R., Minn.), declared this admission was "deeply disturbing."

"I fail to understand how and why our Intelligence could have been that bad," said Thyne. "From what you tell us, we didn't know until eight months ago that Russia was making these ominous gains in bombers and missiles."

25 Big Number To Shaffers

By Jim Riley

Number 25 is a big figure in the lives of John and Josephine Shaffer, at least during the present year of 1946.

The Shaffers will celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary tomorrow and will hold open house for their many friends at Shaffer's Inn, on Route 209, from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m.

Come November and the Shaffers will celebrate another Silver Anniversary. They will have been in business for 25 years on November 9.

The Shaffers operated a business where Courtland Restaurant is now located for 20 years, before moving to their present location just beyond the borough limits of East Stroudsburg in 1930.

Helping hands and teamwork are a tough combination to beat, as Jake Learn, Tannersville resident, learned this Spring.

As reported within these confines earlier, Jake suffered a severe fracture of the collarbone and then was rocked with an attack of appendicitis.

These occurrences were particularly serious to Jake, as he operates a farm and would have missed his Spring planting if it hadn't been for the friendly actions and ambitions of five men.

The quintet is composed of Homer Brong, John Smith, Bob Frailey, Roland Dunkelberger and Dick Smith. Through their help, Jake is up to schedule on his farm chores.

Merle Ostrom, vice president and assistant publisher of The Daily Record, recently took an unscheduled swim during a fishing trip in Vermont. The unscheduled splash took place while Merle was on vacation last week. But, except for a big black and blue spot on his leg, the veteran newspaperman came through the sudden dunking without much trouble.

Bob Metzgar, son of Dr. and Mrs. Marshall Metzgar and a student at Drexel Institute, Philadelphia, began working for John Aicher, consulting engineer with offices on Sixth St. Stroudsburg, this week.

Miss Lillian Stark, Stroudsburg High School teacher, and Mrs. Charlotte Westbrook, nurse for Dr. T. L. Metzgar, are currently on vacation.

The sisters are spending their free time touring Maine.

My New York

New York — The other afternoon I was up in Marnie Sachs' office passing the time of day—and wondering anew at the sureness and skill of so many men in this town. I was talking with Mr. S. about the money invested in Broadway shows by NBC, an organization in which he has a firm lien on all positions that are not nailed down by Pat Weaver or the Sarnoffs pere et fils. He gave me a concise, direct, lucid diagnosis of the whole situation—but it wasn't so much this admirable analysis that impressed me.

It was Sachs' manner. I don't suppose there is anything that makes more of an impact than quiet confidence, and that's what he had. As he told me about the network's having financially backed Call Me Madam, The Great Sebastian and other hits—and a flop or two that he grinned about and had no qualms in listing—I felt, here's a guy who knows his business.

Later, wandering down Fifth Avenue in the sunlight, I began thinking of so many similar men in New York. There is, for example, William Rosenberg, a one-time shorthand champion who gave up potbooks and circles a FIFTY-YEAR membership certificate and pin are being presented to David Nathan Krechel (center), who has been affiliated with the Patriotic Order Sons of America in Kresgeville for a half-century. On hand to congratulate Krechel are (left and right) Henry Adam Shafer, master of forms, and a member since 1892; and Raymond Andrews, treasurer. Krechel has never drawn any benefits from the organization's sick fund during his 50 years as a member.

LEIGHTON—"Men have not consulted God on world affairs! The present-day conditions and uncertainty of men and nations is the result," declared C. W. Barber, of New York, before 1,377 persons in attendance at the main event of the three-day Jehovah's Witnesses' convention here last weekend.

Capt. Auten Departs For Britain

RUSHKILL.—Capt. Harold Auten, owner of Bushkill Manor, left last night on the first leg on his journey to Great Britain to take part in the 100th anniversary celebration of the Victoria Cross.

Capt. Auten is one of only four living Americans who have been awarded the Cross, Britain's highest decoration for bravery.

He went to New York last night and will leave Idlewild Airport by trans-oceanic liner at 5 a. m. Thursday. He is scheduled to arrive in London Friday morning.

Auten is one of about 400 men alive today who hold the Cross. All of them have been invited to participate in the celebration, which will be highlighted by a round of activities with Queen Elizabeth as the central figure.

The celebration starts next Monday with a religious service of thanksgiving in Westminster Cathedral. On Tuesday, all holders of the Cross will assemble in Hyde Park for a review by the Queen. Later in the day, they will be guests of Queen Elizabeth and the Queen Mother at a tea in Marlborough House.

The honored guests will visit Windsor Castle on Wednesday and the following day will be entertained by the Lord Mayor of London at dinner in Guild Hall.

Friday, Capt. Auten will be one of three V.C. holders who will be guests of Trinity House, of which the Duke of Edinburgh is master. Affiliated with Trinity House since 1918, Auten is one of the oldest "younger brothers" still living.

The following day, June 30, Auten will be the guest of honor at a dinner to be given in the House of Commons by Wilson's Grammar School.

This Saturday night, a pre-celebration dinner and reception at the Savage Club will hold Auten's attention. No special events are

VFW To Present Second Show

THOMAS P. Lambert, Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, ran a "rock 'n roll" show the night before Memorial Day. And they got a lot of complaints!

Not the kind you might think, though.

Most of them said: We heard that was a real bouncy show you had going on up there last night. Sorry we couldn't see it.

Included among the "complainants" were a large number of the younger generation.

Same Cast

So—last night the post announced it's going to do the whole thing all over again. New show, same orchestra, same kind of music.

The band is called "The Teen-Agers". It's made up of young men in the genuine "rock 'n roll" set. They're going to be seen and heard in another VFW post show Tuesday, July 3 at the Stroudsburg post home.

There will be two shows that night. One is for teen-agers themselves—from 7 to 9 p.m. The second show is for adults. It'll run from 10 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Post spokesmen said last night that the dance is planned as part of the veteran's organization's community service program. The show will be well chaperoned, the post announced.

planned for Sunday.

The Bushkill resident will leave July 5 on the return voyage. He will travel on the liner Queen Elizabeth and arrive in New York on July 10.

Speaking on the dangers of materialism, Donald Nelson, Circuit Supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses in eastern Pennsylvania and western New Jersey explained: "Every-one knows we cannot live without the material necessities; food, clothing and shelter. But few realize that these very things can kill us if they make us neglect the spiritual things of God."

He urged that we place spiritual things first in our lives and added, "When faced with a choice of serving God or mammon, we must choose God every time! Only by right works, Bible Study and humble prayer can we avoid the snare of materialism and share in the preaching work which is the principal Christian activity today," Mr. Nelson said.

Forty-seven were baptized Saturday afternoon after C. W. Barber explained the Bible symbolism of this act in a talk on "Dedication and Baptism." Explaining how Christ set the example, he said: "Jesus was not coming to John the Baptist to have his sins washed away. He had none. Therefore, baptism does not picture washing sins. If you want your sins washed away, the blood of Christ is for that purpose."

Despite intermittent showers, the largest crowd thus far to attend the assembly came to see the first showing of the motion picture, "The Happiness of the New World Society." The happiness of members of the New World Society attending the 13 conventions held in America and western Europe was effectively shown in color.

Children's Aid To Be Short Of Funds

DIRECTORS OF Children's Aid Society of Monroe County heard a report yesterday in regular monthly session that the agency will be "about $1,500 short of funds to meet its proposed budget" this coming year.

The report, made by LeRoy Koehler, treasurer and Mrs. Jean Albert, executive secretary, also indicated that the agency will be forced to appeal to county commissioners for additional help.

In her individual report on cases handled by the agency, Mrs. Albert pointed out that CAS cared for 64 children during the month of May. Of this total 50 were in care in foster homes. Two of those are babies.

The board reflected its full slate of officers. Returned to their posts were Mrs. A. Hanson, Gilpin, president; Dettlef A. Hansen, first vice president; Mrs. R. Frederick Jones, second vice president; Miss Elizabeth Martin, recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Harris, corresponding secretary and LeRoy Koehler, treasurer.

Mrs. Frank Patterson Jr. was reappointed to her post with the State Advisory Committee to Children's Aid Society of Pennsylvania. Mrs. Patterson is chairman of the State committee. She remains in that post at the specific request of State CAS officials and supervisory personnel.

The report of the nominating committee, made up of Mrs. B. L. Fansler, chairman; Mrs. Jesse Flory and Mrs. Thomas H. Knepp was made by Mrs. Knepp.

An honorary lifetime membership on the county CAS board of directors was voted to Mrs. Lydia Delbert of Gilbert. Mrs. Delbert has been a member of the local board since Children's Aid of Monroe County was organized 25 years ago. She retired this year.

The Daily Record's Home And Building Page

Personal Touch Makes Home Cozy

IT'S THE PERSONAL touch that gives your home a cozy appearance. A motif of your very own woven through your belongings will enhance an otherwise drab abode.

Choose your design by singling out a hobby, favorite animal or just a motif you like, making it your personal stamp.

Napoleon used his "N" as well as the bee to decorate glassware, linens and personal items. It was woven into drapery and upholstery fabrics.

If you are stuck for an idea you might choose a flower, bird or even a tree peculiar to your area.

The duck proved to be an attractive design for one family's country house. They were surrounded by mallards. Ducks were stenciled on beige pongee fabric and used throughout the house at the windows.

The same little duck wound up on the furniture in the guest room, paper napkins, coasters and throw pillows. Eventually the house took as its name—Red Duck Farm.

Station Wagon
A breeder of prize dachshunds, Mrs. Jeanette Cross of Wilton, Conn., uses her motif on a pale blue station wagon, embroidered on guest towels. Her needle work petit point pillows are also of the dachshund.

She has dachshunds cavorting on her homemade Christmas cards and the frisky little dogs are always decked out regally in red velvet and ermine jackets for the occasion. The dachshund is a popular motif, used by a New York taxi cab owner on all his taxi cabs—it's the head of a beloved but departed friend "Wags".

If you love roses as does Dorothy Draper for instance, you might become a rose queen in your home. Stencil it on shower sheets or embroider roses on bed linens. One homemaker paints it on sailcloth for cafe curtains, matches the design to ivy patterned china.

The butterfly is another favorite design. One woman not only has it embroidered on blouses and bed-room slippers as well as nightgowns, but has a powder room wallpapered in oversized butterflies in delightful colors.

Parakeets and canaries make colorful decorations. Ditto the cat. Stencil them on glasses, embroider them on pot holders. Paints that are used for glass stenciling usually have easy-to-follow directions. They may be baked in the oven to keep the design permanent.

Fiberglass Curtains Need Care

HOUSEWIVES decorating their homes with Fiberglass curtains and drapes should give them proper care. This fabric should not be dry-cleaned, but rather hand-laundried. It can be damp-dried and requires neither ironing, starching nor stretching.

To get longest wear from Fiberglass draperies, they should not be wrung when washed. Avoid their flapping against sill or furniture and keep them away from sharp or rough objects.

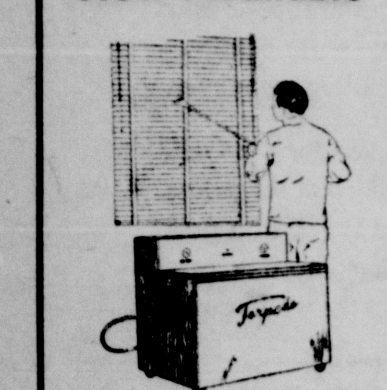

Cleaning Of Rugs

NUMBER of times a rug may be cleaned safely depends upon its material, construction, dyes, wear condition and other factors. However, under normal conditions, a rug of good quality can be cleaned as many times as necessary.

Cleaning Asphalt Tile

ASPHALT TILE may be cleaned easily with a good mopping of soap and water.

A SMALL HOUSE PLANNING BUREAU DESIGN NO. F-411-S

DESIGN F-411-S. The top level of this three level design consists of four large bedrooms and bath, with wardrobe type closets; towel and linen cabinets. Under the bedrooms, the lowest level, provides a garage with work space, laundry, heater and storage room.

The ground level includes a large combination living and dining room, kitchen with dining space, front vestibule and rear entry with coat closets, lavatory and basement stairs. Wood floor construction is used over a crawl space. For exterior finish wide siding is called for, with asphalt shingles, picture window, brick chimney and covered entrance. Floor area is 1715 square feet and cubage is 27,079 cubic feet.

For further information about DESIGN F-411-S, write the Small House Planning Bureau, St. Cloud, Minn., in Canada, the Small House Planning Bureau of Canada, St. John, New Brunswick.

Aluminum Hot Water Heaters Tend To End Rusty Water

AN ALL-ALUMINUM hot water heater is now being made with an aim of ending rusty water and lasting for a longer period of years.

The makers say this heater permits higher water temperatures—up to 180 degrees Fahrenheit.

No Rods
No anode rods, such as those used in some glass-lined and zinc-lined tanks, are needed in the aluminum tank.

This tends to prevent unpleasant taste and odor to the water.

New Life For Door Knobs
DOOR KNOBS and lock plates which are too worn and decrepit-looking to respond to polishing can be given a new lease on life. Remove them from the doors and give them a smooth and durable coating of enamel to harmonize with the door—or to contrast.

If you wish to make them a point of decorative interest, designs can be painted on with an artist's brush. Over such designs, apply a coat of clear varnish.

Hot Water Necessary

BROILERS AND burners of a gas range come clean easily if immersed in a pan of hot water to which you have added two tablespoons of sal soda concentrated. Boil for a few minutes.

Costs Of Maintenance To Rise

THE FIRST big batch of post-war houses—a million of them, according to government figures—will be 10 years old in 1956. And with the second decade for the house, home owners are likely to find maintenance costs much higher.

Unlike the first 10 years of marriage, supposedly the hardest, the first 10 years in a new house should be the easiest. Most new homes don't need any major repairs or improvements during that period.

But the next 10-year period is likely to be different and the home owner will do well to set aside funds for repairs and improvements.

The house built immediately after World War II is likely to be dated now in a number of ways. The average 1946 model was small and compact. It was built on the assumption that people no longer spent much time at home.

But then television and other inducements came along and people began staying home more than ever. The result, according to a recent survey by the Federal Reserve System, is that the most common complaint among home owners today is lack of space.

Therefore, the 10-year-old house is probably due for expansion—a room in the attic, a playroom in the basement or a new wing. Color styling is another change. A decade ago there was not much color variation in building materials. Today homes glisten in almost every color of the rainbow.

Quick Floor Finish

A GOOD FAST finish for floors is one coat of shellac followed by one coat of varnish. It's not as durable as some other finishes but it speeds up the job considerably.

Slightly Dent Paper

WHEN NAILING gypsum board, the nail head should be set so that the paper around it is slightly dented but not actually cracked.

Most Kitchen Counters Too High For Proper Operation

WITH MOST KITCHEN counters 36 inches high, American homemakers are doing at least 70 per cent of their work on surfaces too high for greatest comfort, according to the home research center of a refrigerator manufacturer.

Handyman Helpful At Home

HOUSEKEEPING can be simplified by the handyman if he builds a carrying kit for bottled house cleaning materials. Much scurrying back to the cleaning closet can be eliminated by having all bottles of polish, spot remover, bleaches and other essential liquids neatly arranged in a kit with brushes and cloths.

A sturdy box frame can be built by using two pieces of 3/4-inch board, 11 1/2 by 3 1/4 inches, for the ends. Panels of 1/4-inch hardboard can form the two sides, which can measure 18 by 3 1/4 inches. Three strips of 3/4-inch wood will support the bottom panel—a piece of hardboard, measuring 16 1/2 by 11 1/2 inches and merely resting on the strips.

Compartments
Bottle compartments are created by a simple egg-crate arrangement of five hardboard strips, notched and fitted together. Two pieces 16 1/2 by 3 1/4 inches are notched to half their depth with three 1/4-inch notches four inches apart. Three pieces 11 1/2 inches long are similarly notched 4 inches from each end.

The kit is assembled with wood screws formed from a strip of sturdy aluminum obtainable at any hardware store.

Use Light Bulb To Find Trouble
IF YOU WANT to know which appliance is causing a fuse to blow replace the fuse with a 100-watt light bulb and then plug in the appliances one at a time. When the trouble is plugged in, the bulb in the fuse box will light up. If the fixture is okay, the bulb in the fuse box will light up only half way or so.

Directions On Sizing

GLUE SIZE should not be used when new wallpaper is hung over old wallpaper. It should be used, however, when applying paper to a painted or unpainted wall.

Uneven Floor Proves Difficult

INSTALLING any type of wall paneling in a room where the floor is uneven can be a problem. The way to get around this is to install a baseboard and then set the bottom ends of the paneling on the top of the baseboard.

The crack between the bottom of the baseboard and the uneven floor can be covered with a strip of quarter-round molding.

United States Salutes June As National Dairy Month

Milk Products Promoted In Sales Drive

"JUNE IS Dairy Month." These four words may well herald the greatest food promotion of the year as the dairy industry unites its annual June sales drive for dairy products. Merchandising, advertising and public relations campaigns are all set to roll. It is expected that consumer buying enthusiasm will receive extra stimulus during the drive.

Newspaper advertising will act as the spearhead of the drive.

This year's theme, "June's Best Buys are Dairy Foods," repeats the highly successful 1955 slogan and will appear on all promotional materials. A pink and blue pennant is the central illustration on all merchandising pieces.

June Dairy Month represents the promotional efforts of the entire dairy industry. Headquarters in 1956 again is the American Dairy Association in Chicago. June Dairy Month also has official support from the United States Department of Agriculture.

'It's Real Gone'

STROUDSBURG, Ont., June 19 (AP)—Police stopped a hot rod and told the 16-year-old driver to take it to the station. There they found it lacked: tail lights, muffler, gas tank cap, windshield wiper, engine hood, door handles, a workable horn and an engine that would start when expected. Banishing the heap, they summed up: "It's real gone."

Milk Output Top Source Of Monroe Farm Income

HARRISBURG—Monroe's cow population stepped forward again during 1955 as a major wage-earner. Monroe County's income from milk was $3,875,600 during the year, according to figures released by the Pennsylvania June Dairy Month Committee and the Pennsylvania Bureau of Crop Reporting & Research.

N. E. Sampson, chairman for the Pennsylvania JDM Committee, in releasing the figures, said, "Because our state is so industrialized, with steel and other industries gaining much more public recognition, few Pennsylvanians realize the Commonwealth ranks in the top three as a milk consuming state and among the top five as a milk producing state in the nation."

2,600 Cows

Sampson pointed out that in Monroe County alone over 2,600 cows were milked daily during 1955, producing a record 18,668,000 pounds of quality milk. Another estimated $79,500 was paid to dairy plant employees. The milk production provided Monroe dairy farmers with a $891,100 farm cash income, more than any other single farm crop.

During 1955 over 45,000 dairy farmers in Pennsylvania grazed an average 940,000 cows for a total milk production in excess of 6,364,000,000 pounds, and valued at $287,000,000.

Milk production annually reaches its peak late in May and early in June. For this reason 13 national organizations, with the American Dairy Association in Chicago acting as national headquarters, band together to promote June Dairy Month, as a sales stimulus designed to increase consumption of dairy products during peak production.

Honorary Chairman

In Pennsylvania the State June Dairy Month Committee numbers nearly every organization dealing in some manner with milk and milk products. Each year an honorary chairman is selected. J. C. Hines, McSparran, secretary, Pennsylvania State Grange, headed the 1955 program.

Sampson, president, Dairyman's Cooperative Sales Association, from Volant, Pa., is himself a dairy farmer. The Sampson farm, located in Lawrence County, has been in the family for over 140 years. Besides serving as president of DCSA he has been a director for the past 15 years. He is also a director of the national Milk Producers Federation, vice-president, Atlantic Division, American Dairy Association, vice-president, Pittsburgh Dairy Council, and a member of the Executive Committee of the Pennsylvania State Council of Farm Organizations.

Dairy Foods Meet Test

ANY MAN who says women can't figure doesn't have all the facts. Perhaps she doesn't always keep her check stubs according to the best accounting procedures but when it comes to food planning the American housewife performs a few mathematical miracles.

First, she has to figure what her hungry family likes . . . The food must be nutritious . . . and it must be economical.

And she finds these in dairy foods. Milk is a low cost food yet it supplies such an abundance of essential food elements.

Ice Cream Served In Many Appetite-Appealing Ways

SERVED EVERY day in some way ice cream will add infinite variety and appetite-appeal to family meals. A small serving is just right to put the finishing touch on a heavy meal. Topped with nuts, coconut, or sweet sauces it will build a slim meal up to banquet size.

Used as a garnish it will help stretch a nine-inch pie to eight servings, will make a sliver of cake seem generous and satisfying.

Ice cream should be kept on hand for a variety and assortment of toppings, too. They will give a variety of flavor and interesting textures to any number of delicious ice cream dishes.

Try some of these: chocolate syrup, caramel syrup, maple syrup, honey, frozen, canned or fresh fruit in season; nuts, chopped whole or toasted; coconut; shaved semi-sweet or sweet chocolate, preserves, even cake, cookie, and macaron crumbs.

Ice cream can be depended upon to give a lift or quiet those between-meal twinges of hunger. It's fun to eat, yet won't dull eagerness for dinner.

New York Butter

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—Butter steady. Receipts 1,157,960. Prices unchanged.

Markets Expanded

JUNE DAIRY Month is significant of the efforts put forward by the nation's dairy farmers to expand consumer markets and reduce government surplus holdings of dairy products. As a result of this and other merchandising events, consumption of milk and butter has increased for two straight years.

Dairying is the only major such improvement. Success of the dairy industry must be attributed in part to cooperation of dairies, newspapers, food stores, restaurants, radio and television joined in the business of selling dairy foods.

This Month and Every Month . . . treat yourself to the FINEST!

SCOUTING'S 'BIG SHOW'

CLOWNS, CAMPERS, Indian chiefs and square dancers—but all of them members of the scouting movement—recently gave Cleveland one of the biggest "Big Shows" of the year and, in the process, demonstrated the many sides of these worthy movements. Some 10,000 Cub and Boy Scouts and Explorers put on a show of knot-tying, campfire building and other allied skills. It wasn't all hard work, though, especially with the Cub Scout clowns, the Indian dances and the home-made racer event. Scouting can be instructive and fun, as the photos show here.

On display is an exhibition of outdoor camping. Boys in these patrols are experts.

Choir from Ascension Episcopal church, Lakewood, O., sings special song for show.

Swinging on down, these Scouts enjoy a dancing session with some of their friends.

Ground To Be Broken For Pool

GROUND WILL be broken tonight at 7 for a swimming pool at the proposed new Marine Corps League park.

The park is located off Route 90 in Cherry Valley about one mile from Stroudsburg.

League officials said last night that all Marine Corps veterans are invited to attend the groundbreaking and to help in the work. Refreshments will be served.

Meeting

Those who don't know how to reach the park site should meet at the VFW post home at 7. The League hopes to open its new park within a month. Its facilities will be open to members and the public will also be invited.

Men attending the groundbreaking tonight are asked to bring rakes, shovels and weed-cutting equipment.

The right whale was so named because it was just right for whaling, with plenty of blubber, long baleen and it floats after death.

Relocation Of Wallenpaupack Creek To Begin In August

NEWFOUNDLAND — This area's major flood control project—the relocation of the south branch of the Wallenpaupack Creek in Newfoundland—will begin August 1, B. D. Murphy, chief engineer for the Pennsylvania Department of Forests and Waters, told a joint meeting of the Newfoundland, Pocono Mountains (Barrett) and Jenkintown, Pa. Rotary Clubs here Monday night.

Murphy also announced that the highway department had abandoned its original plan to move the present bridge on Route 290 to span the new channel. A new and larger structure will now be built over the new creek bed and the old bridge will remain in place to act as a relief outlet during the periods of high water.

The new channel, Murphy said, would have a 40 foot bottom with sloping sides and levees giving the stream a 10 foot depth. It will take the stream from the bend near J. P. Burke property on a straight line under Route 290 to rejoin the old bed just north of the old Moravian cemetery, a distance of 1500 feet.

Progress

Reporting the progress of his department in the Pocono Mountains area, Murphy stated that 25 projects, costing $66,100, had been completed; 46 projects, with $276,000 appropriated, had been given final approval; 22 projects are underway at present with $267,000 having been expended through May 26. A total of 327 men are presently employed on work under the supervision of the department's central district office in Stroudsburg.

The chief engineer praised residents of the area for their efforts in recovery from the damage caused by the August 18 flood. He said that he was "amazed" at results achieved in the relatively short time since streams ripped through the Pocono area.

Accompanying Murphy were J. W. Bailey, engineer in charge of the Stroudsburg office of Forests and Waters and L. F. Razny, assistant engineer.

About 50 Rotarians attended the joint meeting. The Jenkintown Club's interest in the New-

Sand Hill Church 103 Years Old

BUSHKILL—Sand Hill Methodist Church near here is preparing to celebrate its 103rd anniversary on July 8 with special services.

Speakers and a history of the church will be featured at the program from 2 to 4 p.m. From 4 until 6 p.m. a ham luncheon will be served.

The public is invited to attend both services.

History

Meanwhile, Mrs. Miles Green who is working on the church history has asked anyone who knows of the church records from 1913 on to call her at Stroudsburg 240, or bring them to her home at 752 Phillips St., Stroudsburg, so that she can read them and incorporate the information in the history.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Stone (Lynne Martin)

Miss Barbara J. DeVivo Bride Of Donald M. Stone

Miss Barbara J. DeVivo, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. DeVivo, of 1082 Dreher Ave., Stroudsburg, became the bride of Donald M. Stone, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Stone Sr., 320 North Courtland St., East Stroudsburg, on June 9. They were married on Saturday at 12 noon at the Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Rev. Roger C. Stinson performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of a few close relatives and friends in the quiet wedding.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white lace street-length dress over mint green taffeta, with matching white lace mitts, a white picture hat trimmed with a mint green taffeta ribbon and white accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white summer flowers with mint green streamers.

Mrs. Kenneth Long as her maid-of-honor, wore a pink street-length dress trimmed in white and white accessories. She carried a colonial bouquet of white summer flowers with pink streamers.

William Stone was his brother's best man.

The mother of the bride wore a navy and white dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue dress with white accessories. Her

Mrs. Betty Kitzon is in charge of program and Mrs. Claire Coleman of refreshments.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

If I were imaginative enough I could see all those pictured brides, lined up in order waiting their turn on the social page, looking at me with reproachful eyes. However, there's nothing but sweetness and light to be read into their expressions—but I'd better find room for them before they get back from their honeymoons, or else.

Meanwhile there's a lot of exciting things going on besides weddings, though you'd have a hard time convincing the wedding parties of that. But ask the young husbands of Barrett, the ones who've been baby sitting while their wives went through fittings, committee meetings, and telephone marathons getting ready for the big fashion show on Friday night.

Ask the teachers and children now attending Bible Schools in so many sections of the county, and you'll find the world centering around the myriad activities going on there.

Ask the Little League mothers and you'll find that the sun not only rises and sets according to what time is the game or practice, but so does the family's meal schedules.

And speaking of meals, a lot of families probably got pretty skippy fare last night, with the lady of the house still so full of food and chatter from the Ann Logan card party that they were hardly in the mood for full-course cooking.

It's busy days all right, but I hope we have a chance to wave to each other as we whiz by on our separate ways.

DAR Officer Here

Mrs. Harold C. Edwards, Club Court, has had as her houseguest Mrs. Thomas Henry Lee, a past state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, immediate past corresponding secretary, and the unsuccessful candidate for President-General at the recent convention.

During her stay here, Mrs. Lee, was the guest speaker at the Wyalusing Chapter, DAR, anniversary dinner, Mrs. Edwards accompanied her to the affair.

Rebekahs Tonight

Tannersville — Elsie Longacre Rebekah Lodge will meet tonight at 8 p.m. with a social to follow the business meeting.

A reception followed the ceremony on the lawn.

The bride attended Stroudsburg High School and is employed by Portland Novelty Co., Portland. The bridegroom was graduated from Portland High School and is employed by Rust Engineering Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Miss Edinger, Michael Rehm Are Married

Miss Jeanne Edinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Edinger, Grandview St., East Stroudsburg, became the bride of Michael Rehm Jr., son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Michael Rehm Sr., of East Stroudsburg. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harold C. Eaton before the altar in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church on Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white net over taffeta with a fingertip veil of nylon net falling from a headpiece of white satin trimmed with white roses. She carried a colonial bouquet of white rosebuds.

Her maid of honor, Miss Edna Hendricks, wore a ballerina-length gown of mint green and white net over taffeta with white accessories and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

Fred Batcher Jr. served as best man. The bride's mother wore a turquoise blue afternoon dress with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Immediately after the wedding a reception for about 75 guests was given at Tom X Ranch. The dining room was decorated with bells and flowers and the bridal table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom.

The bride was graduated from East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School with the class of 1956, and Mr. Rehm, who served three and a half years in the U. S. Navy, is employed at Kulp's Foundry.

They will make their home in an apartment at 344 Main St., Stroudsburg.

ELABORATE GROWTH

The current key to a lovely, liveable home is beauty and individuality. The cold modern room, so popular a decade ago, has been supplanted by a slow process of elaboration. The first indication of change came with the debut of curved shapes in furniture. Then, richer materials were added to provide a luxurious look. Now with the unbridled borrowing from periods of the past, we find a distinctive character in today's decor.

You will find the key to long-lasting floor beauty at this store. We are proud of our line of Pabco linoleums as well as our Good Year Vinyls, cottons, nylons, wools and the latest man-made fibers. When you see our display, you will see the floor coverings you want for your home. Monroe County General Flooring Co., 914 North Ninth Street, Stroudsburg, Ph. 508-J.

When the annual Fashion Show of the Barrett Community Club is held this Friday evening at Buck Hill Inn auditorium, one of the models wearing merchandise from A. E. Wyckoff will be Katherine Mertz of Nazareth. Kathy, who is 22, and a graceful 5'7" topped by flowing, shoulder-length golden hair, was selected as Miss Pocono Mountains in last Saturday evening's competition at the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College.

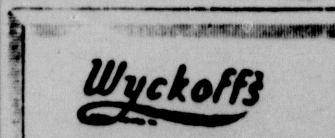

Kathy was a guest on our Wyckoff Shopper broadcast Monday morning, and is even prettier at close range than she appeared from the college stage. (Believe me, that's saying a lot!) She weighs 130 pounds, and is planning to teach second grade at the newly endowed Walt Disney School for Lehigh Valley youngsters come fall. Unless, of course, she wins the Miss Pennsylvania title at Westchester in July... a wonderful possibility which might prove unsettling to her well-laid plans, since the State's ambassador is more or less on tap for all occasions like coca cola.

Kathy says she loves children and is really looking forward to her career. She would like also to obtain a master's degree in psychology at some future date... and, ultimately, she hopes to marry and have youngsters of her own to teach. Her big hobby is singing—which she does beautifully, this being the talent that clinched Saturday night's contest for her. Dramatics and reading are also very important to her. Her favorite color is blue, probably because it's so very right for her and makes such an intense blue of her eyes. "They are green when I wear green, however," she adds.

I was delighted that the pageant here was so dignified and beautiful. The seven girls competing were lovely—every one of them, and they had the grace, charm, and simple unaffectedness which makes one intensely aware of the glory of being young. Perhaps even more girls will participate another year because of the contest's high caliber. I hope so. In the meantime, I am keeping my fingers crossed for Kathy. In my opinion she would be a very fitting successor to Pam Ulrich, the present Miss Pennsylvania, who looks like a fairy princess and is every mother's idea of what a fine daughter should be.

When you see Kathy at the Barrett Fashion Show on Friday, you'll agree with me, I'm sure. As for looking beautiful—well, she does that, even when she's not wearing fashions from Wyckoff.

These are June Jumbo Days at Wyckoff's... so remember to read the ads, listen to the radio, and come in early to do your shopping. Try to visit every department, because there are really splendid buys everywhere, and many of them will not be advertised.

Miss Price Is Bride Of G. L. Snyder

Miss Leta Nina Price, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy E. Price of Portland was married in a pretty lawn ceremony on June 14 at 7 p.m. at the home of Walter C. Price, in Bangor to George Lawrence Snyder, son of Mrs. Mary Snyder and the late Lewis Snyder of Mount Bethel.

Rev. David R. Edwards, D. D. pastor of the Portland Presbyterian Church, performed the ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a waltz length gown of Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over satin. She wore a matching lace jacket with long sleeves and Peter Pan collar, and the skirt was fashioned of tiers of lace ruffles. Her short veil fell from a crown of artificial orange blossoms. Her bridal bouquet of white orchid and stephanotis, and rested on a prayer book.

Mrs. Lauson Pensyl of Mount Bethel as her matron of honor wore a street-length dress of pink crystalite with headress and corsage of roses. Richard Snyder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snyder was ring bearer, and Paul Snyder of 171 Washington St., Belvidere, N. J., served as best

Farmers May Obtain Refund On Gasoline

FARMERS are again reminded that they may obtain a refund on the 2 cents per gallon Federal Excise Tax on gasoline used for farming purposes under a new law signed by President Eisenhower on April 2.

Director F. P. Graham, of the Scranton Internal Revenue Service District, has announced that the claim forms 2240 are now available and must be filed between June 30 and September 30 to cover gasoline used on the farm during the period Jan. 1 to June 30, 1956. In the future, refund claims will be filed yearly for the period July 1 to June 30.

Limited Use
Graham emphasized that the tax refund applies only to gasoline used for farming purposes. Therefore, no allowance is made for tax on gasoline used off the farm, such as gasoline used on public roads or highways in transporting family members or workmen, equipment, livestock, etc., nor for gasoline used in processing, freezing, or canning operations. He further cautioned that farmers claiming refunds should keep adequate records so that the Internal Revenue Service can check the amounts claimed.

Man Not Guilty

THE RECORD

By Bob Clark
Sports Editor

A UNIQUE treat is in store for football fans and coaches when the 13th Eastern Pennsylvania Coaches Clinic gets together at its annual banquet at the Penn Stroud Hotel today.

The oddity, while not sensational, will be the showing of films by Lloyd Jordan, Harvard University's fine football coach, on the teaching of grid fundamentals by one of the greatest mentors of all time—the late Knute Rockne.

Rockne, who is synonymous with Notre Dame University, will be seen directing the Fighting Irish teams of a way back on the ways and means of good football.

Jordan, a master strategist in his own right, acquired the movies a few years ago and changed over the film from an oldtime 16 mm to the more modern 35 mm.

It will be interesting to note the changes of Rockne's era to the present day teachings of football coaches. Incidentally it will be the first time that the films will be shown in this area.

Coaches attending the clinic at Normal Hill claim the annual event is the best ever put on by Stroudsburg's Marty Baldwin.

If attendance at the grid and basketball sessions mean anything then the EPCC classic is a financial success. A tribute to Baldwin and his staff of workers.

Pocono Mountain Baseball League teams will have to sink or swim with the personnel on their rosters for the rest of the 1956 season, according to the deadline list of players released by the PML's guiding hand, secretary John Wernett.

The roster list shows all players under contract to each club in the PML.

Some people are known throughout the world by a particular title or a group of words. In ballet Moira Shearer is tagged by "The Red Shoes"; in baseball there was "Shoelace" Joe Jackson, now Ed Sweet, Shawnee Inn and Country Club's affable tub thumper has unknowingly been tagged "Tight Shoes".

Veterans who have followed the Strouds this year, claim Paul (Doc) Lim one of the best fielding shortstops in the Lehigh Valley.

One critic, and he's one to be frank at all times, says of Lim, the youngster has improved 100 per cent in one year and has all the requisites of a good shortstop. He can go to his right or left and make the play with his stronger than strong arm.

The expert went on to scoff at critics of Lim's size. He quickly pointed out, "Rose (Peewee) of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Rizzuto (Phil) of the New York Yankees) weren't exactly giants."

Two big issues are on the Varsity "S" Association's of Stroudsburg meeting today at the Stroudsburg Municipal building.

A good turnout is needed to put both matters in force.

One, the proposed camping trip for the Stroudsburg High football team, is one problem that must be acted upon one way or another. As Snuffy Smith said, "Time's awastin."

Establishes New 5000-Meter Mark

BERGEN, Norway, June 19 (AP)—Britain's Gordon Pirie flashed over a rain-soaked track today to better the world's 5,000-meter record at Krohn's Mines Stadium, defeating Russia's Vladimir Kutz, who also was under the old mark.

Pirie's time was 13 minutes, 36.8 seconds, compared with the listed record of 13 minutes, 40.6 seconds established by Sandor Ihares of Hungary. Kutz, who led until the final 300 meters, finished about 25 meters behind the Englishman, in 13 minutes, 39.6 seconds.

Pocono Mountain Baseball League Releases Rosters

Secretary John Wernett Lists Players Contracted To Clubs

SECRETARY JOHN WERNETT yesterday released the complete rosters of all ten teams in the Pocono Mountain Baseball League.

The teams' complement are players who have signed for the 1956 campaign. Wernett announced that no alterations or additions can be made by any team during the remainder of the season.

Low Hoad, Louis Brough Draw Top-Seeded Net Singles Berths

WIMBLEDON, England, June 19 (AP)—Low Hoad of Australia and Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., drew the top-seeded singles spots today for the annual All-England tennis championships beginning here June 25.

With the 1955 champion, Tony Trabert, now a professional, the United States turned up with one of its weakest challenges in the men's singles division.

Only three American men were seeded and, surprisingly, the best placed of these was the veteran tennis tourist, Budge Patty, of Los Angeles, and Paris, who is fourth. Young Hamilton Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., was placed sixth and Vic Seixas, who won the Wimbledon title in 1953, was given the No. 8 spot—and indication of the ground he had lost in the last 12 months.

Hoad, the blond blaster who is bidding for the four major championships so that he can grab a lucrative pro offer, was placed No. 1 in the men's division over his Davis Cup teammate, Ken Rosewall.

Davidson No. 3

Sven Davidson of Sweden received the No. 3 seed although he lost to Great Britain's Michael Davies in straight sets Sunday in the European Davis Cup eliminations.

Athea Gibson, the tall New York Negro girl who has been the sensation of the European pre-Wimbledon season, was seeded fourth behind Miss Brough, Beverly Baker Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif., and Angela Mortimer of Britain.

Other American women seeded are Shirley Fry of St. Petersburg, Fla., No. 5 and Dorothy Head Knade of Forest Hills, N.Y., No. 7.

Defending champion, Mrs. John Dyson, Hazelton, would have won the honors except that she was given a two-stroke penalty for a rules infraction on the 11th green.

Former heavyweight boxing champion Jack Dempsey is 61.

BUBBLING OVER WITH PRIDE—A little leaguer coaching at third base during game at Pinehurst, N. C., uses his bubble gum to good advantage while waiting for action to start.

Summerlin Risks Unbeaten Mark Against Satterfield

CHICAGO, June 19 (AP)—Detroit's Johnny Summerlin, a 24-year-old former sailor who has won 30 of 36 pro bouts, risks a budding heavyweight title chance against heavy-listed Bob Satterfield of Chicago at the Chicago Stadium tomorrow night.

Tilden Heads USLTA Top Ten Greats

NEW YORK, June 19 (AP)—William T. Tilden II—Big Bill—who won the U. S. singles tennis championship seven times—heads the all-time American first 10 selected by U. S. Lawn Tennis Assn. officials.

The ratings, made in connection with the USLTA Diamond Jubilee program, made Don Budge a distant second and Jack Kramer third.

The vote of 35 officials gave Tilden 324 out of a possible 350 points, based on 10 for a first place vote, 9 for second, etc. Budge drew 283 points and Kramer 264.

Others Selected

Others picked for the first 10 were William (Little Bill) Johnston, Tilden's leading rival, No. 4; H. Ellsworth Vines Jr., No. 5; Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, No. 6; Maurice E. McLaughlin, No. 7; William A. Larned No. 8; R. Norris Williams II, No. 9, and Robert L. (Bobby) Riggs, No. 10.

Tilden and Larned were seven-time winners of the U. S. title. Each of the others named won it twice.

Aint No Justice

OCEANPORT, N. J. — Jockey Charley Burr, national leader in 1951, doubts there is any justice at Monmouth Park. He has ridden in three stakes so far this season and finished second on all three occasions. He was second in both ends of the Oceanport Handicap with Craigwood and I Appeal and second again in the Regret with Jimminetty.

Apprentice Signed

OCEANPORT, N. J. — Owner-trainer George Howell has leased the contract of Apprentice Harold Brice Jr. from William Froelich. Agent Harold Wiseman is handling Brice's engagement book.

Pace Nine Field In $50,000 Race

BOSTON, June 19 (AP)—Mrs. E. E. Robbins' Mid-afternoon, the sudden sensation as a stakes campaigner, and Alfred G. Vanderbilt's dependable Find head the field of nine horses for tomorrow's 22nd running of the $50,000-added Massachusetts Handicap at Suffolk Downs.

Mid-afternoon, the 4-year-old son of Billings, who three weeks ago won the Metropolitan Handicap in contest with the great Nashua and other headline handicap stars, is coupled in an entry with William Ewing's Alibhai Lashes.

The two are expected to go to the post as 8-5 favorites with a crowd expected to exceed 20,000 for this mile and a quarter classic.

A CHANGE IN THE feature stunt for "The Amazing Dunninger Show" tonight at 8:30 has been announced by Channels 6 & 7. Bob Hope, comedian, will pose a difficult challenge for the "mental plant" from a remote pickup location in New York. The stunt previously scheduled for tonight will be seen instead next Wednesday night. It will involve a problem presented by John Raitt, Julie Wilson and others of the cast of "The Pajama Game."

Sixth-ranked Johnny Summerlin will trade punches with Bob Satterfield in a 10-round heavyweight bout tonight at 10 over Channels 6 & 7. Both fighters are anxious to get into the thick of contention for the vacated championship.

Three baseball games are on tap: St. Louis at Brooklyn at 1:25 p. m. (Ch. 9); Chicago Cubs at New York at the same time (Ch. 11); and New York Yankees at Detroit at 9:15 p. m. (Ch. 11).

MacDonald Carey and Kim Hunter co-star in "Moment of Courage," a suspense drama to tonight at 10 on Channels 6 & 7. Other plays: "The Story of Tom Bryan," starring James Daly, at 9 p. m. on 2 & 10; "Flying Object at 3 O'Clock High," featuring Biff McGuire and Everett Sloan, at 9 p. m. on 3 & 4.

Weekly favorites to be seen tonight include Arthur Godfrey at 8 p. m. on 2 & 10; "This Is Your Life" at 10 p. m. on 3 & 4; "Disneyland" at 7:30 on 6 & 7; "Break the Bank" at 9:30 on 6 & 7; "I've Got a Secret" at 9:30 on 2 & 10.

Current Movies

"The Revolt of Mamie Stover," with Jane Russell, Richard Egan and Agnes Moorehead, opens tonight at Sherman Theater, Stroudsburg.

Starting today at Grand Theater, East Stroudsburg, is "Stranger at My Door," starring MacDonald Carey and Patricia Medina.

Summer Theaters

"Solid Gold Cadillac," starring Billie Burke, is being presented

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your future. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 8 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 8, add 4. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right, then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

September 24 to October 23 (Virgo)—Your influence warns all to be judicious in spending, most careful in investments. Otherwise, the day can be amenable, even advantageous, in matters connected with usual routine, labors, trades, work.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Very auspicious Venus and Sun rays now promise fresh opportunities, pleasant events, some interesting activities. Try to make the most of them.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Mars and Saturn aspects stress a need for the thoughtful consideration of others' wishes now. Fine aims and clever handling of work favored.

November 23 to December 21 (Sagittarius)—Your Jupiter's present position certainly does not sponsor careless management of finances or business interest. In fact, your best judgment will be needed now. Seek cooperation, help where it could prove advantageous.

December 22 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Don't hesitate to heed good suggestions from those qualified to advise. But, at the same time, don't permit your own ideas to be overruled. Think carefully, then proceed rationally.

January 21 to February 19 (Aquarius)—A time to forget any wandering tendencies and get down to business, real concentration of effort, unless, of course, you are on vacation or in need of rest for health's sake. Be logical.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Mild influences prevailing now will become stronger tomorrow. Think and plan sensibly today, thus not lose time of rest for health's sake. Be logical.

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—You are characterized by deep love for home, family and religious beliefs. You are exceptionally kind to children, old folks and the ill, have a fine memory and a faculty for entertaining and recounting stories, anecdotes. You could become a successful lawyer, debater, actor, salesman or salesman. Innately gracious, generous, kindly in manner, you are generous and thoughtful in disposition.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—Pleasant indications. The aspects especially favor personal matters, the artistic professions, activities requiring finesse, deftness, skill. This can be YOUR day if you make it so.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—This may not be an entirely easy period—especially for the new and clever ideas. However, familiar matters, routines to which you are accustomed can move along smoothly, efficiently. Avoid irritating subjects, persons.

June 22 to July 21 (Cancer)—Your Venus and the Sun in benefic positions, favor your special attributes, talents and the kind of activities for which you are trained or educated. Fine rays for good fun, family interests.

July 22 to August 21 (Leo)—The Sun's aspect gives promise of fine achievement, perhaps musical gain to be expected. Otherwise, the day can be amenable, even advantageous, in matters connected with usual routine, labors, trades, work.

August 22 to September 21 (Virgo)—Jupiter's influence warns all to be judicious in spending, most careful in investments. Otherwise, the day can be amenable, even advantageous, in matters connected with usual routine, labors, trades, work.

Three Children Receive Rites Of Baptism At Swiftwater Evangelical, Reformed Church

SWIFTWATER—Rites of baptism were administered here to three children at the Sunday morning services of the Evangelical and Reformed Church by the pastor, Rev. William E. Foose.

Receiving Christian baptism were: Beth Ann Bowman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bowman, whose sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Manganello, of Lancaster; Allan Brent Check, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory

Check; and Dorothy Mae Fish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fish, whose sponsors were her guardians, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hess.

Joint Services

New members received included: John Bowman, by profession of faith; Mrs. John Bowman, by letter of transfer from the Methodist Church of Forty Fort; and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hess, by letter of transfer from the Durham Union Church of Springtown, Pa.

Joint preparatory services for the four churches of the charge will be held at the Swiftwater church on June 28, followed on July 1 with the Holy Communion at 9:15 a.m.

Members and visitors are advised that services will be conducted in the Swiftwater church every Sunday during July, August and September, and offerings for these services will be applied to the building improvement fund.
